

Who here has a job that they enjoy? Who likes shoes? I am Christian and this is my job. I buy shoes for retail and sell them for more, known as reselling. This "job" is not easy. Most of the time it is luck but there is a way I increase my chances of copping (buying). I use a bot. Bots are softwares that can checkout faster than any human ever can. Stores like kith or trophyroomstore are shopify websites. Their servers are located near Ashburn, Virginia. So I also use Google Cloud Services for a server closer to the websites therefore faster ping and I can checkout faster. I also use proxies which masks my IP so I do not get banned easily and it allows me to run many tasks. [Demonstration of bot] This is a shoe I bought for 230$ and if I were to sell it right now I could sell it for around 950$ over 300% return.

Other aspects of my talk:

When?

- Buy on release days, on nike 7am PST
- Surprise drop
- Exclusive access
- Adidas confirmed
- Raffle Drawings (footlocker, shoe palace, sheik)
- FCFS at certain places (Undefeated, nicekicks, bait)

How?

- Bot (proxies, servers)
- Autofill
- Pray
- Wake up
- Be in the know
- Discord, instagrams, facebook

Why do shoes have value? What to buy?

- The hype
- Collabs (supreme x nike)
- High demands (royals, breds)
- Sentimental value (fake a story about how you were gifted a shoe when u were younger)
- Country/ region exclusive (ex. concepts)
- Things that have resell
- Things you actually like
- Things that are hyped

Who?

- Anyone who is financially stable, these sht aint cheap
- Hypebeast
- resellers
